- a. U/C (Usado com)
- b. F/C (Fornecido com)
- c. A/D (Alterado de)
- d.) INTERC COM (Intercambiável com) – A expressão “INTERC COM” especifica a relação de intercambiabilidade entre a peça substituída (PN antigo) e a peça de substituição (PN novo).
 - 1) Intercambiabilidade unilateral. A peça de PN antigo pode ser usada como substituição somente onde ela estava instalada. A peça de PN novo é uma substituição aceitável para a de PN antigo ou para a de PN novo.
 - 2) Intercambiabilidade bilateral. A peça de PN antigo e a peça de PN novo são ambas substituições aceitáveis tanto para a peça de PN antigo como para a peça de PN novo.
 - 3) Não Intercambiável. Quando uma peça de PN antigo for removida, ela deverá ser substituída por peça de PN antigo. Quando uma peça de PN novo for removida, ela deverá ser substituída por peça de PN novo.

- d. INTERCH WITH (Interchangeable with) – The term “Interchangeable With” specifies the interchange relationship between the replaced part (old part number) and the replacing part (new part number).
 - 1) One-Way Interchangeable. The old part number may be used as a replacement only where the old part number was installed. The new part number is an acceptable replacement for either the old or new part number.
 - 2) Two-Way Interchangeable. The old and new part numbers are each acceptable replacements for both the old and new part numbers.
 - 3) Not Interchangeable. When the old part is removed, it must be replaced with the same part number. When the new part number is removed, it must be replaced with the new part.

- 4) Intercambiabilidade de Conjunto. Todas as peças usadas numa instalação devem ser substituídas por um conjunto completo de peças de PN novo. Para os conjuntos que contêm mais de um PN, aplica-se o Código "5".
 - 5) Intercambiabilidade Qualificada. Essa intercambiabilidade é aplicável às situações de substituição que não forem abrangidas pelos quatro códigos descritos acima ou que não forem aplicáveis a todas as aeronaves e motores especificados pelo Modelo de Código de Aplicabilidade.

 - o. (ALTERNATIVA USE) – Indicado no caso em que peças em falta no estoque possam ser substituídas por outras.
- 4) Interchangeable As A Set. Replacement requires that the entire quantity of the old part used in an installation be replaced with a complete set of the new part numbers. For sets comprising more than one part number, Code "5" applies.
 - 5) Qualified Interchangeability. Applies to replacement situations not described for the above four codes or codes or when not applicable to all aircraft or engines specified by Model of Applicability Code.
- e. LH or RH – Indicates mirror opposites when shown following description.
 - f. LEFT or RIGHT – Indicates part usage in relation to its left-hand or right-hand next higher assembly.

 - n. (FOR DETAILS SEE) – Used in the description column for equipment or accessory requiring a separate manual coverage.
 - o. (ALTERNATIVE USE) – Used to indicate those parts which, when not in stock, may be replaced for others.

1-11. COLUNA "CÓD. FABR." (FORNECEDORES)

Esta coluna relaciona os códigos dos fornecedores dos itens. Consulte a lista de fornecedores e os respectivos endereços no final desta seção.

1-11. "VENDOR CODE" COLUMN

This column lists the part Manufacturer/Vendor's codes.

A listing of vendors and the relevant addresses is provided at the end of this Section.

1-12. COLUNA “QTDE” (QUANTIDADE)

Nesta coluna a quantidade de unidades por conjunto indica o número de itens idênticos com o mesmo número-índice necessário por conjunto.

Quando um item é mencionado como referência, é inserido nesta coluna a abreviatura “REF.”.

Nota

Os itens mencionados como referência não devem ser usados como fonte de informação para obtenção.

São usadas também nesta coluna as abreviaturas CR (como requerido) e NOB (não obténível), usada para indicar um item que não seja uma peça física, tal como o desenho de uma instalação ou uma peça não obténível.

1-13. COLUNA “EFT” (EFETIVIDADE)

Os códigos nesta coluna designam o avião ou o grupo de aviões, em que a peça é usada.

São usados dois tipos de códigos:

- Numérico, que indica diretamente o número de série do avião.
- Alfabético, que indica o número de série do avião, por meio de letras que são decodificadas ao fim da lista de peças relativa a cada figura.

1-14. COLUNA “OMR” (OBTENÇÃO-MANUTENÇÃO-RECUPERABILIDADE)

Destina-se à futura inclusão de códigos relativos à Obtenção, Manutenção e Recuperabilidade de um item.

1-15. ÍNDICE NUMÉRICO - SEÇÃO II

O “ÍNDICE NUMÉRICO” é constituído pela Seção II deste manual e contém todos os números de peça que aparecem na “Lista de Peças de Manutenção”, arranjados em seqüência alfanumérica.

1-16. COLUNA “NÚMERO DE PEÇA”

O número de peça começa na posição extrema esquerda e continua para a direita, uma posição por vez. A ordem de precedência dada no arranjo do número de peça para a primeira posição (extrema esquerda) é a seguinte:

1-12. “QTY” COLUMN

The quantity of units per assembly, in this column, indicates the total of identical items, included with same index number (item), which is required per assembly.

When an item is listed as a reference, the abbreviation REF is inserted in this column.

Note

Referenced items must not be used as information source for procurement.

Abbreviations AR (as required) and NOB (non procurable) also appear in this column, the latter being used to indicate an item which is not a physical part such as an installation drawing or a non procurable part.

1-13. “EFF” COLUMN

Coding in this column designates the aircraft or group of aircraft on which the part is used.

There are two types of codes:
